Why do I need CloudFit for my fitness business?

As the fitness industry evolves it is blending with the tech industry enhancing results for both clientele and business owners.

Digitally display your workouts

Whiteboards and printed out exercise pictures for exercise stations are already very much a thing of the past, and will only be even more so in a few short years to come.

If you are operating a fitness business and choose not to evolve digitally you will unfortunately lose clientele and memberships to those who chose to stay relevant with industry trends.

CloudFit has been developed to level the playing field for all businesses. Making it available to any business anywhere in the world and branded your way.

Powerful Technology

CloudFit technology has been designed to operate without the need of any custom hardware. Designed with the aim to give access to any fitness business anywhere in the world to use the software easily and thrive.

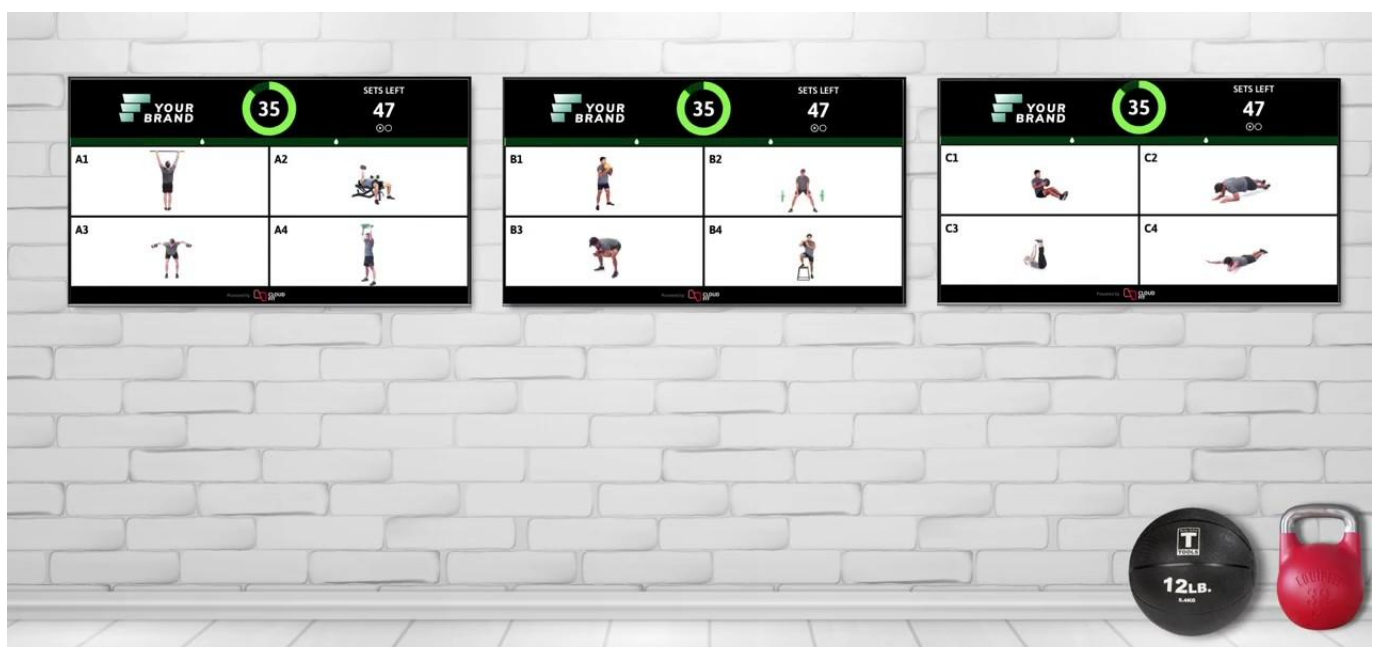

Hardware Required

- Smartphone
- Apple TV or Apple iPad
- HD display TV
(or equivalent with HDMI port)

*Please note that the Apple TV and/or iPad are used to display the workouts and are not essential to test or run a workout on your smartphone. I.e. workouts can be built and displayed on your smartphone.

At this time, we strongly recommend Apple products for the best use for professional business offerings.
